

PRE-EMPLOYMENT DRUG TESTING HELPS PREVENT THE HIRING OF INDIVIDUALS WHO ABUSE DRUGS AND IS MOST OFTEN PERFORMED AS A PART OF THE JOB APPLICATION PROCESS.

DRUG TESTS

Drug testing can help to improve employee morale and productivity while decreasing absenteeism, accidents, downtime, turnover and theft.

Employers design drug-free workplace programs to protect their businesses from the impact of drug abuse. Pre-employment drug testing helps prevent the hiring of individuals who abuse drugs and is most often performed as a part of the job application process. Because every business and work force is unique, each employer should make a careful determination about the program elements that are most beneficial for their workplace.

According to research nearly 7 percent of adults employed full time and 9 percent of those employed part time currently use illegal drugs.
